A Real Clearance of Men's Suits $9.50, $14.50 and $16.50

This is a Clearance Sale. That means we take our regular stocks and mark them at reduced prices. We do not judge values or price comparisons, so the suit you've admired all season you probably will find here now a quite a reduction.

For example, there are plenty of finely tailored suits that were great sellers at moderate prices. They are now $9.50, $14.50 and $16.50. Variety spices the offering which includes serges, clay worsteds, fancy worsteds, plaids, checks, stripes and mixtures galore.

If you want a suit from the finest lines we carry, take your choice now at $19.50 and $24.50.

Men who can wear narrow shoes in extremely small or very large sizes, have a chance to pick a fine pair of tan or black oxfords that were anywhere from $3.50 to $6, at half price.

Pope Urged to Seek Haven
Basel, Aug. 5.—German and Austrian journals continue to urge the necessity of the Pope's quitting Rome. They agree that the most preferable shelter for him would be the Benedictine Abbey of Einsiedeln, near Zurich, where the Swiss Government has discreetly advised His Holiness, he would find absolute security.

London Dailies Smaller
London, Aug. 5.—Decreased advertising revenue and a shortage in the supply of chemicals necessary for the manufacture of white paper have resulted in an agreement by the proprietors of London's newspapers to reduce the number of pages. The Post today contained ten pages, while the Times, Telegraph and Standard contained twelve.

Flee Belgium By Fake Race
Amsterdam, Aug. 5.—How 112 Belgians escaped into Holland through a cleverly faked bicycle race, is told in dispatches from the frontier. A number of Liege sportsmen called on the German commandant of that district a fortnight ago and asked permission to organize a bicycle race for the benefit of local war victims. The race was to be from Liege to Moulain, on the Dutch frontier.

The Commandant fell in with the plan, only stipulating that each contestant must wear an arm badge with the German colors and affix a small German flag to his bicycle. After some demur the promoters of the race consented to conditions. The Commandant supplied the badges and gave himself and agreed to send a military band to the starting place. The race took place some days later with 112 contestants. The entire countryside turned out to watch the event, and the German sentries all along the road saluted the racers as they pedaled by. But the cyclists did not stop when they reached Moulain; they continued straight on across the Dutch border and failed to return.

Kaiser Honors Archduke Frederick
Berlin, Aug. 5.—Emperor William personally delivered a Prussian Field Marshal's baton to Archduke Frederick of Austria, the Commander in Chief of the Austro-Hungarian forces in the east. The presentation took place at a little Galician town serving as the Austrian headquarters, which was richly decorated with flags. The inhabitants of the place, in spite of a pouring rain, cordially greeted the German Emperor, who briefly addressed the Archduke.

Pots and Pans for War's Use
London, Aug. 5.—German newspapers received here describe the invasion of forty-eight collective centres in Berlin on August 2 by housewives bringing brass and copper household utensils in obedience to the orders of the Government.

Budapest Women for Peace
Rome, Aug. 5.—A Budapest despatch says that women of the nobility have formed a peace league with Countess Teleki at its head, and that the intention is to begin a peace propaganda throughout the world. It is regarded as significant that the Government has tolerated the formation of the league. It is reported that the league is secretly supported by Count Tisza, the Hungarian Premier, who favors a separate peace.

1,875 British Casualties in Day
London, Aug. 5.—The daily casualty list from all the British fronts issued last night in 42 officers, of whom 12 were killed; 1,833 men, of whom 150 were killed.

Russia Finds a Lloyd George
Petrograd, Aug. 5.—Alexander J. Gouckoff has been appointed chief of the munitions bureau. The place corresponds to that filled in England by David Lloyd George. Mr. Gouckoff is a former president of the Duma and recently was head of the Russian Red Cross work in Poland.

HIGHER EDUCATION WINS MORE STUDENTS IN U. S.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Increase of nearly 7 per cent. in the number of students in American colleges, universities and technological schools in 1914 over the previous year is shown in the annual report of the federal commissioner of education, which has just been made public. The figures are 214,494, compared with 202,322 in 1913. Six institutions received benefactions in excess of a million dollars apiece and 45 universities, colleges and technological schools reported gifts amounting to more than $100,000.

State and municipal appropriations grew from $4,649,549 in 1908 to $12,400,549 in 1914, while fees for tuition and other educational services increased from $15,849,847 to $22,504,529.

CHILD WANDERS FROM HOME AND IS DROWNED

New Haven, Aug. 5.—Howard Soule, aged 16 months, wandered from the home of his father, William Soule, at Westville yesterday and the body was found under a bridge crossing the Ashpetuck river during the night. The child had fallen into the water from the bridge.

DOZEN SURVIVORS OF BATON ROUGE AT 9TH CONN. REUNION

Only Handful of Survivors
Able to Attend Feast at Savin Rock.

Twelve survivors of the Ninth Conn. Vols., "the famous Fighting Ninth," of Civil war days, met yesterday in reunion at Savin Rock. Of the 90 survivors of this famous regiment they were apparently all who were able to be present. Among them were two Bridgeport veterans, Col. Richard Fitzgibbon and Capt. John C. Curtis. Col. Fitzgibbon, although 60 years of age, is still active and is employed as inspector by the Bridgeport Hydraulic Co. Capt. Curtis is more than 70 years of age and has retired from active business life.

The occasion of the reunion yesterday was the 53rd anniversary of the battle of Baton Rouge, La. There Col. Cahill of the Ninth took command of the Union forces and Col. Fitzgibbon, then lieutenant colonel, became regimental commander. Capt. Curtis was but 17 years old but for good conduct and attention to duty he had risen to be sergeant-major. At that battle he took two prisoners and was promoted to be lieutenant on the field by Col. Fitzgibbon. He also received a medal of honor from Congress for his bravery that day.

Reminiscences of battle days were the chief topic of conversation at the reunion yesterday. Capt. Lawrence O'Brien of New Haven told many interesting and stirring stories of the war time experiences of himself and his comrades. The regiment was in camp at New Haven before it was mustered into the service and there is a monument there erected in memory of those who died in the service.

There were 126 Bridgeport men in the regiment and of these Col. Fitzgibbon and Capt. Curtis alone survive. There were 1,100 men enlisted in the regiment.
